HISTORY OF CROSSETT SCHOOL

Crossett High School really had its beginning in Sept. 1906 when four ninth grade students presented themselves for high school work. Residences 308 and 310 were used for school that year as the present site was thick virgin forest. After the humble beginning the present site of the high school was acquired from the Federal Government and in 1907 the Senior High School building was constructed.

By 1908 there were about 25 students in the high school. This steady growth has continued to the 193 enrolled in the last four grades this year. In 1909-10 there were students in all high school grades, Miss Agnes Erwin being the only senior. A four year course of study submitted to colleges of the state for approval was promptly accredited and CHS has maintained this accredited relation as a Class A high school, and since 1924 has been on the accredited list of the North Central Association. CHS has graduated 518 students. With the addition of the 39 this year the total will be 557.

The present Junior High School building was constructed in 1911. Athletic interest was so great that the gym was built in 1913. In the same year Home Economics and Trades and Industries were added to the regular course and the shop building was constructed. By 1931 the enrollment was too great for the class room buildings and the present auditorium was erected. In 1932-33 the Home Economics Cottage was built by the Trades and Industries department. In 1938 the new Elementary School was built. The last addition to the campus is the Band Hall now under construction by the Trades and Industries department.

No history of CHS would be complete without mentioning the fact that Superintendent D. C. Hastings has guided the destinies of the school almost from the beginning and has been largely responsible for its phenomenal growth.

Thus you see the rapid development of our school from the humblest of beginnings to the most respected high school in Arkansas and one that ranks with the best schools in other states.

II. THE CROSSETT SCHOOL SYSTEM

The Church School

The little church that was built to keep out the saloon became the first school in Crossett. It was 16 ft. by 32 ft. and was located at the corner of Rock Island Avenue and Main Street. The first classes were taught in 1905. Three different teachers taught at that school. Mr. Feister taught a month or so at first, followed by Mr. Allen Byrd. The following year, Miss Cynthia Pearson (later Mrs. Billy Woods) was teacher to the group of 25-30 children.

Grading was simple in that school. A child knew where he was by what "reader" he was studying--whether it was "First Reader", "Second Reader", etc. The Blue-Backed Speller followed him right through High School. When they had spelling class, they had to stand, spell, pronounce, and give the abbreviation of the word before they sat down. Discipline was direct and uncomplicated. If you did something wrong, you got a whipping.¹⁹

The church school was used for two years. Around 1908, it was decided that the school should be moved, as there were more students and additional space was needed. Another factor contributing to the move was a prank by a high-spirited youngster named Judson Hannibal. In those days, there was no indoor plumbing. Young Judson set fire to the "facilities" building, and it burned to the ground. Shortly thereafter, the children were moved.

The Old Green School

Classes were held in houses numbered 310 and 310 on the east side of Main Street until the new school was constructed in 1909. The new structure was referred to as the "Green School". It was located where the Hastings Elementary School now stands. It was made up of several buildings, including one for the grammar school, one for the high school, and another for the shop. Later, the shop was moved to the back of the campus to make room for the new gymnasium, built in in 1913. In those days, classes were called by a school bell which hung in the belfry in the main building.

Behind the school building, there was a wooded section which was cleared so that the boys could have a practice lot for their athletics. All football games were played on this lot until it was moved to what is now the Eagles' practice field.

The first football game played by Crossett was against Fordyce on Dec. 7, 1907. The school at Fordyce was the Clary Training School. Their coach was Byron Atkinson, 17 years old, who also played as quarterback on their team. The Crossett team was coached by Jesse Hall. The score was 21 to 0 in favor of Fordyce. Fordyce returned the game in 1908. Crossett won 17 to 0. The first basketball team in Crossett dated about 1907.²¹ In the first baseball game, Crossett beat Portland 57 to 1.

The first superintendent was Mr. D. C. Hastings, who came to Crossett in 1905 and retired in 1944 after 39 years of service.²² Mr. Hastings had started the platoon system in a modified form.²³ This was the work, play, and rest plan modeled on the Gary, Indiana system.²⁴ The students went to different rooms to be taught by different teachers as in high schools and colleges.²⁵

The School Board members in 1911 were: Mr. M. P. Dooley, President; Mr. F. S. Cannon, Secretary; Mr. L. L. Hunnicut; Mr. R. M. Courson; Mr. T. H. Rice; Mr. E. W. Gates.

The Building Committee members were: Mr. M. P. Dooley, Mr. Allen Trieschman, Mr. Frank Bowers, and Mr. D. C. Hastings.

The first flag was presented by Mr. Dooley. A group of boys secured a wagon and team, went to the woods and brought back a nice tree, dug a hole in the ground, and planted the tree. This was the first flag pole. The flag was raised each morning and taken down each afternoon by the boys who were the custodians. Mr. M. P. Dooley brought a new flag when the old one became tattered and torn. Through his influence, a flag pole was later made at the mill.

At that time, the school was heated with large coal stoves. Dink Lloyd, a fourth grade pupil in Miss Carrie Calhoun's room, paid his tuition by keeping the fires going.

Every school year had two terms and each student had to pay tuition at the beginning of each term. Later, the high school paid tuition monthly. In later years, no tuition was charged in the schools.

Besides managing the mill, Mr. Gates had the people's personal interests at heart. Track meets, together with literary contests, were popular events in those days. The different towns took turns as hosts. When Crossett's turn came, there was no auditorium for the literary events. So a large tent was stretched on the grounds where the contests could be held. The large auditorium was built in 1921. It was a large frame building, not ceiled. Not only did the students use it for an auditorium, but it was the community center. It was later ceiled and the floor elevated.

In 1924, Crossett High School fulfilled the requirements to become a member of North Central Association, which meant that the elementary school had to meet certain requirements also. This enabled the graduates to enter college without examinations.

Calhoun School

In the 1930's the first paper mill went into operation. This caused the town's expansion. It grew south as the mills were north of the highway and railroad. Naturally the school facilities proved inadequate. So, in 1938, a new elementary school was built at 704 Oak Street.

Those were the days of the Depression and this elementary school was built with WPA labor. It was built on the bank of the big ditch or the Elementary Canal. An amphitheater was built north of the building, where for many years it served as an outdoor auditorium for graduation exercises, May Day festivals, and other large gatherings. Later two rooms and a basement were added to the building which enabled the school to house 400 students.

When the school was built, Miss Carrie Calhoun was principal until her retirement in 1947. Miss Carrie was a great humanitarian. Her heart was always open to all who sought her help. It seemed so right to honor Miss Carrie by naming the school for her.

In 1932-1933, the "Local History Club" of the Crossett High School published a booklet entitled "Local History Notes". The articles, Tanner School and History Of White District School, were taken from that booklet.

HISTORY OF WHITE DISTRICT SCHOOL

Spencer Freeland

The location of White school is about ten miles south of Crossett. It is located on high ground and in the center of the community.

In the year 1905 Gullage Brothers built a saw mill at White, and the lumber business was prosperous until 1917, when the mill burned down.

The school had an enrollment of about a hundred, and G. D. Moore taught the first school to be taught in that small village.

The pupils increased so that it became necessary to have three or four teachers later on.

But, the first year that G. D. Moore taught there he was very strict on the children. Soon the boys and girls got acquainted with Mr. Moore and things went on well.

The school was a very good small school until the saw mill burned in 1917, when most of the people in White moved away.

The school kept running until 1925 in White and then the community decided to move it to more nearly the center of the community since there were only a few families in White.

The school was moved to Lick Prairie in 1925, about three miles north of White.

The prairie gets its name because animals lick the ground there to get the salt out of it.

The place is not very well suited for a school on account of no shade trees.

The school ground is salty and will only grow small shrubs.

The school is now running and has two teachers and about forty pupils.

The pupils from the seventh grade up are going to Crossett High school which is one of the best in Arkansas.

TANNER SCHOOL

Leonie Burnett

Tanner school was first located about four miles northeast of Crossett because it was just about the center of the district and most of the people agreed for it to be there about the year 1880.

During that time most of the people were farmers and Mr. Tensley Tanner said that he would give this lot for the benefit of the children. The people of that community built a one room building and employed one teacher until about the year 1911, then a new building was built about one-half mile southwest of the old one. In 1918 another room was added to the building and they employed two teachers.

Some of the teachers were as follows:

1910 Mr. Russell Pyron
 1912 Mr. John Baxter
 1914 Miss Nola Perdue
 1916 Miss Buna Pruitt
 1917 Mrs. Pearl Hagen
 1918 Mrs. Eddie Harris
 1919 Miss Zera Jeffress and Mr. Charlie D. Hollis
 1920-21 Mr. Roby Hollis and Mr. Scott Mann
 1922 Mr. Roby Hollis and Miss Zola Louis
 1923 Mr. Walter Carruth alone taught the entire school because an epidemic of small pox was raging and so few children attended.
 1924 Mr. Roby Hollis and Miss Gladys Knight
 1925-26 Mr. Roby Hollis and Miss Elmer Ingram
 1927 Mr. Frank Carpenter & Miss Elmer Ingram
 1928-29 Mrs. Elizabeth Woods and Mrs. Kittie Carter
 1930-31-32 Mrs. E. G. Jordan and Mrs. Kittie Carter

In 1932 the district began paying the tuition for students who finished the eighth grade and wished to go to higher school. The district also buys books, tablets and pencils for the children

Among those who came from Tanner and to the Crossett school are: Able, Alice, Marion Fletcher, Lois, Lula Mae, Monroe, Lucille Cope, Normie, J. L., Louie, Thelma Johnson, B. P. Whetstone, Raymond, Myrtis, Unice Sivils, Katie, Floyd, Etha Okla, Leonie Burnett, Bob, J. B., Lucille, Horace Courson, Jimmie Craig, Gladys, Perry Jordan, Lessie, Agnes, Johnnie Aiken, Ida Goodwin, Leona, Clinton Cameron, Bill Crowson, Harold Bryant, J. C., Ralph, Malloy, Jewell Pruitt and Wilson Doss.

In 1928 the pupils from the higher grades gave a box supper for the purpose of buying a basket ball for the school. The highest bidder won the box. The boxes were auctioned off by Mr. E. A. Burnett. The prices paid for the boxes ranged from one dollar to two dollars and fifty cents. The total amount received for the boxes was about fifteen dollars. After buying the basket ball the children made a court and have played many interesting ball games. The money that was left was used for buying supplies for the beginners class.

Mr. E. H. Brantley is now painting the building and the teachers and pupils have planted small shade trees on the campus for the pupils to play under.

Semi-Annual Report of Superintendent of School to Board of Education,
Crossett, Arkansas January 28, 1921
Report of the Department of Science by R.E. Vinson

Agriculture-- This has been the most delightful work of the year to me. We have a lively bunch of seventh graders, all full of life and willing workers. This is the first year in the history of the Crossett schools that such an extensive work has been done in Agriculture. Previously the work has been confined to the text book and to simple laboratory exercises.

At the beginning of the year we procured a garden spot from Mr. Trieschmann and Dr. Spivey, which garden spot is located back of the hospital. We did not wait until spring to start our garden work. In December we began work on a hotbed. The first problem for us to solve was that of finances. We had no money. The schoolboard had none to give us. So we hit upon the following plan.

We consulted Mr. Norman and found that he would lend us enough money to carry on our work. I went down to the bank and had a note for $25.00 filled out. I took it to the class and allowed them to sign it, making it voluntary. All but two of the class signed it immediately. These signed it the next day. The problem before the class then was to work to pay our debt. Every pupil was liable for the debt and they realized it.

We went to work to build our hotbed. It cost us about twelve dollars in all. The rest of this twenty-five dollars has now about exhausted, having spent some for work in our garden and for seeds.

Last week we realized that the plants of our hotbed, which consist of cabbages, tomatoes, lettuce, and flowers, would soon be large enough to transplant. So we went to work and built a 16 x 6 coldframe. This week we will transplant some of them.

In our garden we have 36 plots 20 x 7 ft. Two or three of the class are not physically able to do the garden work. We already have planted on each plot two rows of cabbages, two of onions, two of radishes and two of English peas. The night after we set out our cabbage plants a cow got in and ruined our stand. We will now have to do some replanting.

Those few people who are not able to do the garden work are going to do some flower box work, and also raise some plants in boxes indoors.

Mr. Ritch, the company's farm demonstrator, has several different kinds of seeds left over from last year and he did not know whether or not they were good, so he gave them to us to test. This test is under process now.

We wish to extend thanks to Mr. Ritch for the invaluable assistance he has given us. We would not have made near the progress we have had we not had the assistance of this agricultural expert.
